

welcome

we're so glad you're here!

*Please consider this a place to call Home - With people, you can call Family.
You are always welcome! God truly loves you, and we do too.*

Someone wrote, "Mother's Day is traditionally the day when children give something back to their mothers for all the spit they produce to wash dirty faces, all the old gum they held in their hands, all the noses they wiped, & all the bloody knees they 'made well' with their kisses."

Mothers wear so many hats, and juggle a myriad plates! Mothers are teachers. Mothers are disciplinarians. Mothers are cleaning ladies. Some mothers are gardeners & mowers of lawns. Mothers are nurses & doctors, psychologists & counselors, chauffeurs & coaches.

Mothers are developers of personalities, molders of vocabularies & shapers of attitudes. Mothers are soft voices saying, "I love you." And mothers are a link to God, and most importantly, a child's first impression of God's love. Mothers are all these things & much, much more.

Mothers always want the best, and nothing short of it, for their kids. Let's for a moment, look at Mrs. Zebedee from the Bible. Mrs. Zebedee, the mother of James and John, wanted the best for her boys.

Why
Celebrate Mothers?

She was aware that her kids had a place of importance in the Lord's inner circle, and she had also heard Jesus teach about His Kingdom. She approached Jesus, and asked Him to do her a favor: when He established His Kingdom, would He please seat her sons on either side of Himself, giving them places of authority and honor?

Today, we understand what the Lord meant when He was talking about His Kingdom. But dear old Mrs. Zebedee was just trying to do the best she could to ensure good positions for her boys in the future. Jesus didn't deny her request; He just reminded her of the cost. Many of us Moms are equally anxious to see our kids become a part of the Kingdom. The mother of James and John made her supplication known to the Lord. Most mothers pray. We pray out of necessity. Often our prayers come from places of desperation. In a world of changing values, and a powerful, all-pervasive media presence, the task before mothers is more daunting than ever before.

Often we're simply focused on the influence we can have right here and right now on our children, grandchildren, etc. We all want our kids to stand first in class, excel in a highly respectable profession, marry well, have a good home, and all the other appendages. While none of that is bad, the influence of a man or woman whose life demonstrates that they have given themselves totally to God, can last for generations.

A true story from World War II tells of such a love demonstrated in the Rosenberg family that were prisoners in a German concentration camp. The camp rules were simple: as long as you had strength to work, you lived. The day you were too weak for labor, you were exterminated. Solomon Rosenberg had watched in despair as his weak old parents had been marched off to the gas chambers. In his heart he knew his frail youngest son David, would be next. Each evening, as the family came together from their respective places of work, they searched anxiously to find each other, and then huddled together, grateful for another day of life. But one day, Solomon came back to find his older boy, Joshua, huddled in a corner, crying inconsolably. Rosenberg's heart sank. "Tell me it's not true!" he said to Joshua. "It's true, Poppa...", he gasped through the sobbing, "they took David away today." "Where's your mother?" Solomon asked. "She went with David, Poppa", he sobbed, "when David started crying and said that he was afraid, Momma said, "Don't be scared David, I will go with you!" She held his hand tightly and went with him.

That, dear friends, is a true picture of motherhood! As much as it is a picture of the love of Father God who sent His Son Jesus, to be with us always, even through the hardest moments of our lives. I pray that today you will appreciate and bless the mothers that have played a role in your life, shaping you with great pain and sacrificial care, into the person you are. Let them know how much they mean to you, bring a big old smile to their lips, a twinkle to their eyes and a warm glow to their loving hearts!
